Program Information

The New Mexico VA Health Care System which is located in Albuquerque is seeking two individuals for a 1 year paid Physician Assistant post-graduate residency in Psychiatry. Training will occur in both inpatient and outpatient settings and is tailored to allow graduates to sit for the Psychiatry CAQ. Graduates will be eligible for direct appointment to full time positions within the VA. The program includes a wide variety of clinical experiences in Psychiatry. Our residents will also be able to attend didactic lectures with the University of New Mexico’s Psychiatry residents.

The 2019-20 Stipend is $75,244. Please see http://vaww.oaa.med.va.gov/DBReports/LocBasedStipends.aspx for current stipend. Benefits for residents include 13 days’ vacation time, 13 days sick time and 10 federal holidays. Residents are also eligible for health, vision, dental insurance and liability coverage.

About Albuquerque

Albuquerque, New Mexico is a city of 575,000 people that enjoys all four seasons and 310 days of sun per year. It is located adjacent to the Sandia Mountains, which provide excellent year round outdoor recreation activities. The city has over 200 parks and enjoys an vibrant local food scene. There is fascinating cultural diversity with influence of Native American and Hispanic culture.

New Mexico is the 48th state of the union and has a remarkable geographic range. The geography ranges from the sandy deserts of the south to the scenic foothills of the Rockies (just below the Colorado state line) and has served to inspire generations of artists. There is good skiing, hiking and many National Parks to explore. New Mexico is home to a thriving scientific community and hosts two national labs and several research facilities. There are more PhDs per capita in New Mexico than any other state.
